2 History of the Exodites

When Eldar civilisation neared its end, a number of Eldar groups denounced the decadence born of Chaos and left their home worlds in a series of emigrations known as the Exodus, calling themselves the Exodites.

Those who joined the Exodus came from every layer of Eldar society, but they were united in their determination and in a powerful will to survive. Most travelled east, crossing the galaxy as far from the main concentrations of Eldar population as they could. The Exodites understood the dangers of hedonism, and so they chose to settle worlds where life would be hard, in order to avoid the trap of idleness. Among the Exodites, the Eldar nature is expressed as fierce loyalty to one's clan and a strong determination to achieve one's goals.

The struggle to survive on these worlds is difficult. To face those conditions, some Exodites converted their graceful war machines into working tools so that they could keep herds of gigantic animals called Megadons. A warrior elite gradually developed a system of rank and honour. Exodite society returned to a near-barbaric state, following the herds across the plains in an endless hunter-gatherer existence, hiding its advanced technology behind a primitive way of life.

In time the craftworlds sought out the Exodites and offered them a place aboard. The Exodites answered their brothers coldly and preferred to remain where life is simple, harsh, and full of danger. Although the craftworlds and the Exodite colonies trade with one another, the Exodites maintain that the easy life of the craftworlds is dangerously close to that which led their race to the Fall.

The Eldar of the craftworlds regard the Exodites as rustic and simple, but also vigorous and savage, very different from their own introverted society.

The Eldar Path determines the way of life of every craftworld, but not that of the Exodites. For this reason they seem wild and individualistic, far more independent of mind and adventurous than their cousins. More importantly, Exodite societies are more rigorous and physical than those of the craftworlds. Where the latter cling to the past and preserve all they can of their fallen civilisation, the Exodites have turned their backs on ancient tradition for a simpler but harder life. Their minds are stricter and more rigid, but also less subtle and perhaps less powerful than those of the craftworlds. Even so they have survived, and of all the Eldar they have the best chance of continuing as they are.

3 Special Rules

3.1 Scout

If the Exodites are your primary army, choose one of the following abilities at the beginning of the battle, before objectives are placed.

- For every complete 3 detachments with the Scout ability, the Exodite player chooses one Class 1–3 detachment. That detachment gains Infiltration (the chosen detachments need not have the Scout ability themselves).

In addition, the player gains 2 orders in reserve as though the army had a detachment with the Master Strategist ability.

- Exodite Class 1 and 2 bases gain the Camouflage ability for Turn 1 only.
- The Exodite player may place one forest for every complete 2 detachments with the Scout ability, to a maximum of 3 forest areas, at the same time as fortifications. Each feature may be no larger than 10 cm by 10 cm and may be placed anywhere on the battlefield except on another terrain feature.
- For every complete 2 detachments with the Scout ability, the Exodite player chooses one opposing Class 1–4 detachment deployed on the table. That detachment must receive an Advance order on Turn 1.

3.2 Forester

Exodites suffer no movement penalties when they move through forests.

4 Special Abilities

4.1 Holo-Field

Some units use a protection system known as a Holo-Field. This device wreaks havoc upon targeting systems and makes the unit difficult to hit. The field's dispersion and the distortion it produces depend on both the mass of the unit and the speed at which it is moving.

A Holo-Field grants Protection (X+) against all shooting, depending on the order of the base it protects.

Protection	Order
5+	First Fire / Immobilised
4+	Advance / Fall Back
3+	Charge / Forced March

5 Psychic Powers

5.1 Visionary

5.1.1 The Executioner [Combat Phase]

The Visionary projects his mind out of his body and launches an attack against his enemies. Nominate an enemy base within 45 cm and in line of sight. Immediately resolve an assault against it. This is a Psychic Attack with an AF of +4. Psychic Saves must be made before the assault is resolved in order to cancel the effect. The Visionary receives the usual bonuses for previous attackers and also counts among the previous attackers for the target's subsequent opponents. The attack counts as an assault by a Class 2 base.

5.1.2 Fortune [Movement Phase, upon activation]

The Visionary looks into the near future to predict enemy attacks. Nominate an allied detachment within 12 cm. That detachment gains 3 Fortune counters, which function as Elite counters for this turn.

5.1.3 Heal [Movement Phase, upon activation]

The Visionary may try to heal wounded bodies. He gains the Medic ability until the end of the turn.

8 Infantry

8.1 Fusiliers

The Fusiliers are the troops employed by the Exodites. In civilian life they live on the Baron's lands and must repay him by fighting in his army whenever he judges it necessary.

They have the Infiltration ability.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
10 cm	–	+0	6	Shard Carbine	45 cm	1	5+	0

8.2 Exodite Warriors

The warriors are the most common close-combat troops of the Exodite warhosts, mixing warriors and hunters who go to war under the command of their Baron.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
10 cm	–	+1	6	Shuriken Pistol and Sword	20 cm	1	5+	0

8.3 Scouts

The Scouts are the standard Exodite outriders. They are formidable snipers and are quick to delay enemy armies with exemplary efficiency.

The Scouts are a remarkable asset for the Exodites.

They have the Scout, Free Deployment, Sniper, and Camouflage abilities.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
10 cm	–	+1	6	Long Rifle	75 cm	1	4+	0

9 Cavalry

9.1 Travois

An Exodite Travois is an antigrav platform drawn by a dragon. It is used for a single purpose: to deploy the weapon quickly, fire, and then move again.

All Travois have the Fire on the Move and Cannot Be Transported abilities. In addition, the Star Cannon Battery has the AA ability, and the Missile Launcher has the Artillery and Reduces Cover (−1) abilities.

Travois – Star Cannons

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
15 cm	–	+1	6	Star Cannon Battery	75 cm	2	4+	−1

Travois – Missile Launcher

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
15 cm	–	+1	6	Missile Launcher	120 cm	1	3+	0

9.2 Dragon Knights

Dragon Knights are the most common troops in a Baron's service. They are generally the young members of the clan whose role, in peacetime, is to guard the herds. In battle they ride the most common and easiest mount, because they are not trained to other beasts. Dragon Knights carry a Shard Carbine and a wraithbone shield. They have the Infiltration ability.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
20 cm	–	+2	6	Shard Carbine	45 cm	1	5+	0

9.3 Lethosaur Knights

Lethosaurs are smaller than Dragons, with chameleon-like skin. They are ridden by scouts who need to close with the enemy while avoiding direct contact.

They have the Scout and Infiltration abilities.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
25 cm	–	+1	6	Plasma Carbine	30 cm	1	4+	–1

9.4 Baron

Barons may be the lords of their territory or a member of that family, often a son seeking to prove himself. The Baron does not merely command the army; he owns it. It is composed of his retainers and the people who live on his lands. The forces at his disposal symbolise his status and his wealth. Barons are armed with a Laser Lance and equipped with a wraithbone shield.

Barons have the Leader, HQ, Attached Character, Elite (1), and Lance (5+/AP –1) abilities.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
20 cm	4+/6+f	+6	Attached	Shuriken Pistol	20 cm	2	5+	0

9.5 Pterosaur Knights

Pterosaurs are the only true flying creatures on most Exodite worlds. Pterosaur Knights are used as reconnaissance troops when other scouts are hindered by the terrain. Their main role is to swoop down on the enemy and bring support where it is needed.

They have the Antigrav and Deep Strike (2) abilities.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
25 cm	–	+2	6	Shard Carbine	45 cm	1	5+	0

9.6 Raptor Knights

Raptors are extremely agile insectivorous bipeds, large enough for a rider but of slight build. They are the most common scouts in Exodite armies and are also used as fighters because of their excellent reflexes and vicious temperament.

They have the Scout and Infiltration abilities.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
25 cm	–	+3	6	Sword and Pistol	20 cm	1	5+	0

9.7 Dragoons

Dragoons are drawn from the finest soldiers of the Baron's household. They are most commonly employed to break enemy lines, but they are just as formidable in the assault with pistol and lance. Dragoons are armed with a Laser Lance and a wraithbone shield.

Dragoons have the Infiltration, Elite (1), and Lance (5+/AP 0) abilities.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
20 cm	5+	+4	5	Pistol and Lance	20 cm	1	5+	0

9.8 Visionary

Exodite Visionaries have the powers of the spirits at their disposal and are among the psykers of greatest potential in the galaxy. Because their race is in tune with psychic energies and respectful of the spirits of the dead, they are feared by the other Eldar. Visionaries wear spirit armour modelled from the wraithbone of the world-spirit itself.

Visionaries have the HQ, Psyker, Attached Character, and Psychic Save (4+) abilities. In addition, a Visionary may use one of his powers each turn.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
20 cm	6+f	+4	Attached	Shuriken Pistol	20 cm	1	5+	0

9.9 Vyper Transport

The Vyper Transport is an adaptation of the Vyper created for the Exodites' needs, imitating the Venom transport used by the Harlequins. The shuriken cannon has been replaced by an open transport deck, turning it into a light transport.

The Vyper Transport has the Antigrav, Transport (1), Attached Transport, and Open-Topped abilities.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
35 cm	6+	+1	Attached	Shuriken Catapult	20 cm	1	5+	0

9.10 Salamander

The fire-spitting Salamander holds great importance in Exodite myth, having much in common with the traditional dragons of Eldar legend. Their breath has enormous destructive power, immolating unwary targets.

It has the Infiltration ability. Its weapon has the Reduces Cover (−3) ability.

Movemen	Save	AF	Morale	Weapon	Range	Dice	To-Hit	AP
15 cm	–	+1	6	Fire Breath	45 cm	2	4+	0

10 Walkers

10.1 Combat Walkers

The Asuryani use many forms of bipedal war machine. The smallest and lightest are designated Combat Walkers. These one-man walkers resemble the Sentinels of the Imperial Guard, but they are far more agile, because the machine's sophisticated gyroscopic stabilisation and articulated feet allow it to cross the most broken ground at speed. They also have more firepower with which to destroy the enemy. The role of these machines is to conduct aggressive reconnaissance. Once the enemy is located, the Combat Walkers hasten to pin it in place.

They have the Infiltration ability.

25 cm	5+	+1	6	Bright Lance	75 cm	1	4+	-2
				Scatter Laser	20 cm	3	5+	0

10.2 Reconnaissance Walkers

The craftworlds use jetbikes for reconnaissance and rapid attacks. The Exodites use reconnaissance walkers, able to withstand the sudden storms that sweep the verdant steppes and to pass through dense undergrowth. They are more lightly armed than Combat Walkers and do not have their protective energy shields. Combined with their speed, this makes them ideal for lightning attacks.

They have the Scout and Free Deployment abilities.

25 cm	5+	+2	6	Scatter Laser	20 cm	3	5+	0

11 Vehicles

11.1 Pentasaur

These herbivores take their name from the cluster of horns on their heavily armoured heads. In addition to their bony carapace they have very thick skin, a high tolerance for pain, and a surprising number of redundant internal organs. Combined with a slow nervous system, these traits make them almost insensitive to damage. The Exodites mount a twin Maelstrom Laser on their backs and use them as the equivalent of a tank destroyer. The Maelstrom Laser, Maelstrom Missile Lance, and Thermal Lance have the Turret ability. The Maelstrom Missile Lance also has the Battery, Artillery, and Reduces Cover (−1) abilities. The Thermal Lance variant's Flamer has the Reduces Cover (−3) ability.

12 Knights

12.1 Carnosaur

It is the fiercest of all the dragons ridden by the Exodites. The Carnosaur can reach 10 metres in height and is a terrifying sight. It is a predator: it stalks its prey and kills without pity. The beast walks on its powerful hind legs and uses its long tail for balance, which means it can move at an astonishing speed for its size. The Carnosaur has a great reptilian head, and its long teeth are sharp enough to tear flesh and bone with ease. They are used to spread terror through enemy ranks; ridden by two brave warriors, they charge in, causing carnage and terrible destruction.

Carnosaurs have the All-Round Armour, Wounds (2), Fear, and Damage (+1) in Assault abilities.

12.2 Bright Knights

These knights resemble great horses with a humanoid torso in place of the head. They exist in two versions. The Bright Stalker is equipped with a Bright Lance and a Pulse Laser.

The Bright Stallion has the Lance (3+/AP -2) ability. Both versions have the Wounds (2), DR (6+), and Holo-Field abilities.

12.3 Towering Destroyer

These are large bipedal knights with four arms, two for long-ranged weapons and two for assault. They have the Wounds (2), DR (6+), and Holo-Field abilities.

12.4 Fire Knights

These are bipedal knights with two arms and various weapons. The Fire Knight exists in three versions. The Fire Gale is equipped with two Bright Lances, while the Fire Reaper uses a Reaper Laser and a Scatter Laser, and the Fire Storm is equipped with a Missile Launcher and Pulse Lances.

13.1 Megadon

Megadons are enormous omnivorous reptiles. The Exodites use this species because of its relative intelligence. The Megadon answers simple orders from the driver on the howdah on the creature's back. The military application of such beasts is obvious: in battle they make excellent mobile heavy-weapon platforms, combining long-ranged artillery with a terrifying close-combat capability. The problem with Megadons is that they are still animals, and if they are badly wounded they do not always obey the driver.

Megadons have the All-Round Armour, Wounds (4), and DR (5+) abilities.

The Assault version also has the Transport (6) and Open-Topped abilities. Its Heavy Thermal Lance has the Turret and Damage (+1) abilities. Its Flamers have the Turret and Reduces Cover (-3) abilities.

The Support version's Twin Star Lance has the Turret and Damage (+1) abilities.
